

Peggy and Charles

STEPHENSON CANCER CENTER

at The University of Oklahoma

CANCER HEALTH DISPARITIES PROGRAM

Inaugural Works in Progress Meeting

Friday, November 2, 2012, 1-2 pm

SCC Small Conference Room 6012

Box lunch available for all those who request one. RSVP to bnorton@ouhsc.edu.

PRESENTERS

Ted Wagener, PhD (Pediatrics)

E-cigarettes as a Method of Secondhand Smoke Reduction (R01 App)

Elaine Hsieh, PhD (Communication)

Enhancing Patient Communicative Competence and Uncertainty Management in Gynecological Oncology (R01 App)

PANEL OF RESPONDENTS

Laura Beebe, PhD, Professor (Biostatistics and Epidemiology), Director, OTRC (SCC)

Mark Doescher, MD, MSPH, Professor (Family Medicine), Program Leader, Cancer Health Disparities Program (SCC)

Morris Foster, PhD, Associate VP for Research (OU-Norman), Deputy Director for Prevention and Control (SCC)

Bill Lovallo, PhD, Professor (Psychiatry), Director, Behavioral Sciences Laboratory (VA), Co-Director, OK Center for Alcohol and Drug-Related Studies

James Mold, MD, Professor and Director, Research Division (Family Medicine)

Dorothy Rhoades, MD, MPH, Associate Professor (Internal Medicine) and Director of American Indian Cancer Initiatives (SCC)

Paul Spicer, PhD, Professor (Anthropology/Center for Applied Social Research)

Works in Progress is a new initiative of the CHD Program in which investigators present and receive input on the scientific aims, hypotheses, and/or methods of a proposal they are currently developing for funded research. Investigators are also invited to present specific questions they are working to resolve. A panel of respondents is identified for each session. Any Stephenson Cancer Center member, affiliated with the Cancer Health Disparities Program, is welcome to participate.